5 Common Tax Mistakes To Avoid

Faulty Math

A small miscalculation can throw off all your numbers and get you into trouble with the IRS.

Name Changes and Misspellings

If you've recently changed your legal name, let the Social Security Administration know before filing taxes.

Omitting Extra Income

If you've taken any side jobs during the year, fill out a 1099-MISC and file it along with your taxes.

Recent Tax Law Changes

When preparing your taxes, be sure to file according to the most recent laws. If you're not sure, it couldn't hurt to hire a professional to help.

Signing Your Forms

If filing the old-fashioned way, put your signature wherever required. If filing online, you can use a PIN instead.
